Latin afro cuban mambo salsa, call it what you wish. It was the groovy,roaring time of Tito Puente, Machito and Tito Rodriguez and dancing in Spanish Harlem at venues like the Cheetah. Pike apprenticedder Herbie Mann and then like Cal Tjader and for a while George Shearing he formed his own groups and orchesatras with great musicians like Cachao, Patata Valdes and Willie Bobo. Any of his Latin jazz recordings are musts for any Mambo maniacs that are out here!

*** Good - but not the best of the Jazztet. December 21, 2000

By Dr.D.Treharne Format: Audio CD

It's difficult to understand from this distance in time why this aggregation never really broke through to the kind of acclaim that they deserved. The playing on this collection is excellent, particularly on the self-penned material (mostly from Golson - but "Mox Nix" from Farmer is stunning). The standouts are the version of "I remember Clifford", "Park Avenue Petite" and of course, the much lauded "Killer Joe". The ensemble playing is terrific and the rhythm section of Addison Farmer and Lex Humphries gave this version of the group real propulsion. So why not 5 stars? Well, because the best it got for me, was the group that played on the now-out-of print Verve album "Here and Now" which has been available only from time to time (shame on you Verve Interactive) most recently in 1998. That's where the interplay between Golson and Farmer seemed at its best, and Farmer gets to play some great flugelhorn. However this is just fine!

★★★★★ Quintessential Hard Bop November 20, 2003

By D. Falk

Format: Audio CD

This album has it all: tight arrangements of standards, fresh new tunes, and fantastic solos by all. Features Art Farmer, Benny Golson, Curtis Fuller, McCoy Tyner (only 24 years old, not yet into his cuartal harmonies and shimmering pentatonics), Addison Farmer, and Lex Humphries. The dialogues between McCoy and Lex are fantastic as are all of Curtis Fuller's solos, which seem to all be at smokin' tempos. There is also a hip spoken intro to Killer Joe. Horns don't just sit around either. They back up the soloist or melody.

In short, this is a fine disc. Dig it.

*** Farmer/Golson Jazztet May 8, 2006

By Bomojaz

Format: Audio CD

The personnel here is somewhat of an anomaly in that it changed radically after this initial session (except for Farmer and Golson, of course). Curtis Fuller is on trombone and he's phenomenal on IT'S ALL RIGHT WITH ME, which is taken at breakneck speed. AVALON is also taken WAY up tempo; in fact, it's TOO fast - it's all notes. Golson's tenor is featured nicely on his classic tune I REMEMBER CLIFFORD and on the standard EASY LIVING. Farmer is excellent on his own composition MOX NIX, an up-tempo blues. Benny Golson was a superb composer and PARK AVENUE PETITE is a beautiful ballad. His BLUES MARCH is also performed, though not quite as successfully as on the Art Blakey Blue Note recording entitled MOANIN', which is definitive. And his KILLER JOE gets its first airing on this CD, taken medium-slow. McCoy Tyner (p) Addison Farmer (b) and Lex Humphries (d) round out the rhythm section. This is an excellent hard bop album and one of the best by the Jazztet.

*** Killer! September 2, 2002

By rballjones

Format: Audio CD

"Meet the Jazztet" is certainly a diamond in the rough. I find myself returning to it often--more than most jazz CDs. It's very easy on the ears, full of melodic compositions (say Benny Golson) with a mellow trombone presence from Curtis Fuller.

Recorded in 1960, I suspect this recording isn't better known for two reasons: the name of the band is non-descript and there are no big stars. But the stellar line-up of Art Farmer, Fuller, Golson, McCoy Tyner, Addison Farmer and Lex Humphries swings hard. You won't go wrong with this one. "Killer Joe" could be a pop tune or a jazz tune; it's a sure classic.

★★★★★ Not So Hard

Golson's influence is predominant on this album, mostly in the restrained-but-dynamic composition of the tunes. It would be hard to find another LP with such a stellar cast...

After working together on a couple of previous albums, Art Farmer and Benny Golson formed the Jazztet in 1960 and recorded a handful of albums for the Argo label; this was the first. (The group lasted only a couple of years, though Farmer and Golson revived it in the 1980s.)

The personnel here is somewhat of an anomaly in that it changed radically after this initial session (except for Farmer and Golson, of course). Curtis Fuller is on trombone and he's phenomenal on IT'S ALL RIGHT WITH ME, which is taken at breakneck speed. AVALON is also taken WAY up tempo; in fact, it's TOO fast - it's all notes. Golson's tenor is featured nicely on his classic tune I REMEMBER CLIFFORD and on the standard EASY LIVING. Farmer is excellent on his own composition MOX NIX, an up-tempo blues. Benny Golson was a superb composer and PARK AVENUE PETITE is a beautiful ballad. His BLUES MARCH is also performed, though not quite as successfully as on the Art Blakey Blue Note recording entitled MOANIN', which is definitive. And his KILLER JOE gets its first airing on this CD, taken medium-slow. McCoy Tyner (p) Addison Farmer (b) and Lex Humphries (d) round out the rhythm section. This is an excellent hard bop album and one of the best by the Jazztet.

*** Killer! September 2, 2002

By rballjones

Format: Audio CD

"Meet the Jazztet" is certainly a diamond in the rough. I find myself returning to it often--more than most jazz CDs. It's very easy on the ears, full of melodic compositions (say Benny Golson) with a mellow trombone presence from Curtis Fuller.

Recorded in 1960, I suspect this recording isn't better known for two reasons: the name of the band is non-descript and there are no big stars. But the stellar line-up of Art Farmer, Fuller, Golson, McCoy Tyner, Addison Farmer and Lex Humphries swings hard. You won't go wrong with this one. "Killer Joe" could be a pop tune or a jazz tune; it's a sure classic.

*** Fantastic reissue of a rare classic June 5, 2011

By Craig S. Cherry

Format: Audio CD | Amazon Verified Purchase

"Big City Sounds" was recorded by Art Famer and his Jazztet in September, 1960 - only months after the much more well-known album "Meet The Jazztet." Like that album, Big City Sounds features terrific playing by a top notch group of players. The sound quality is excellent, and Fresh Sounds did a really wonderful job with this 2011 CD reissue. The original cover art and liner notes are faithfully reproduced, along with additional photos and notes. Even the CD has the cover art screened onto it, so they went all out on the packaging for this. And for whatever reasons, this album was pretty hard to find, even on CD. You can get half the tracks on the "Blues On Down" compilation, but I'd certainly recommend gettingt the whole album in its original form. I'd also highly recommend the Fresh Sounds companion reissue of "Meet The Jazztet." It too has been lovingly reproduced and has great sound quality and packaging. These are both classic albums from the great Art Farmer - definitely worth owning!

★★★★ Jazztet one of the greatest groups in jazz period! June 13, 2012

By crispy critter

Format: Audio CD | Amazon Verified Purchase

As the earlier reviewer stated other than the pricey but fine fidelity Japanese releases Fresh Sounds has done a great job with this and meet the Jazztet originally on Argo. These are essential and then all you need is the fantastic Jazztet Live at the birdhouse released domestically in 2002 as a mini LP as well, a japanese version came out in 2005 but is very hard to find. Benny Golson & Art farmer only pair that comes as close in synchronicity was Clifford Brown and Harold Land.

★★★★★ Sammy at his very, very best June 19, 2005

By Daniel Jolley HALL OF FAME TOP 500 REVIEWER VINE VOICE

Format: Audio CD

The Sounds of '66 is a recording that all Sammy Davis Jr. fans simply must have in their collections. Sammy is in perfect form, backed by world-famous drummer Buddy Rich and his orchestra live in Las Vegas. This was Sammy's natural environment, and he put on what is perhaps the show of his life that night. World-class entertainers from all over the Vegas strip packed themselves into the Sands lounge in the middle of the night, after all of the main shows were over, and reveled in a jam session the likes of which may never be seen again. Sammy bores right into Come Back to Me at fever pitch and never slows down until the show is over. This live version of Come Back to Me is the best I've ever heard. I've lost count of how many versions of What Kind of Fool Am I? are available, as Sammy never seemed to sing this song the same way twice, but this live recording features one of the better ones.

All of that being said, one of the many great things about The Sounds of `66 is the fact that a number of these tracks aren't readily available on other albums, at least not that I know of. I can't remember which female artist made I Know a Place famous, but Sammy truly brings the song to life in a wholly new form. What Did I Have That I Don't Have? is perhaps my favorite song on this CD; it starts a little slowly, but Sammy fills it with enough passion and emotion that it is all but flammable by the time he gets through with it. Once in Love With Amy and If It's the Last Thing I Do are great songs I have not heard elsewhere. I never cared for What the World Needs Now Is Love until I heard Sammy sing it; he wails, producing a much more animated song than Burt Bacharach could even conceive of. One of my all-time favorite songs is What Now My Love? Read more >

**** Sammy and Buddy and classic '66 jazz vocals. Can't go wrong.

After looking at some other Sammy Davis records, I saw this and saw Buddy Rich and though how can you go wrong? You can't.

★★★★ Sammy at his very, very best June 19, 2005

By Daniel Jolley HALL OF FAME TOP 500 REVIEWER VINE VOICE

Format: Audio CD

The Sounds of '66 is a recording that all Sammy Davis Jr. fans simply must have in their collections. Sammy is in perfect form, backed by world-famous drummer Buddy Rich and his orchestra live in Las Vegas. This was Sammy's natural environment, and he put on what is perhaps the show of his life that night. World-class entertainers from all over the Vegas strip packed themselves into the Sands lounge in the middle of the night, after all of the main shows were over, and reveled in a jam session the likes of which may never be seen again. Sammy bores right into Come Back to Me at fever pitch and never slows down until the show is over. This live version of Come Back to Me is the best I've ever heard. I've lost count of how many versions of What Kind of Fool Am I? are available, as Sammy never seemed to sing this song the same way twice, but this live recording features one of the better ones.

All of that being said, one of the many great things about The Sounds of `66 is the fact that a number of these tracks aren't readily available on other albums, at least not that I know of. I can't remember which female artist made I Know a Place famous, but Sammy truly brings the song to life in a wholly new form. What Did I Have That I Don't Have? is perhaps my favorite song on this CD; it starts a little slowly, but Sammy fills it with enough passion and emotion that it is all but flammable by the time he gets through with it. Once in Love With Amy and If It's the Last Thing I Do are great songs I have not heard elsewhere. I never cared for What the World Needs Now Is Love until I heard Sammy sing it; he wails, producing a much more animated song than Burt Bacharach could even conceive of. One of my all-time favorite songs is What Now My Love? Read more >

**** Sammy and Buddy and classic '66 jazz vocals. Can't go wrong.

After looking at some other Sammy Davis records, I saw this and saw Buddy Rich and though how can you go wrong? You can't.

77 Suinset Strip sound track May 28, 2004

By A Customer Format: Audio CD

This album is outstanding. West Coast cool jazz performed by Warren Barker and a group of uncredited but highly talented musicians. I have always wondered why the musicians have never been identified because there is some excellent piano, vibes and horn work on this album. The German CD reissue has excellent sound quality. I

#:395 was listening to this album in 1959 and still listen to it in 2004. Henry Mancini created the private eye jazz style ("Peter Gunn") but Warren Barker added greatly to it with this album.

77 Sunset Strip was the first and best of the Warner Bros. 50's detective shows. The cast was above average, the stories, which were copied for the other shows that followed, were well written. After listening to this cd, you realize this album could have stood for it's self and not just background music. I highly recommend this hard to find cd if you are a fan of 50's big band.

Cool and Crisp November 14, 2012

By Brent Butler TOP 500 REVIEWER VINE VOICE

Format: MP3 Music | Amazon Verified Purchase

This first thing I like to know about an MP3 album is how it compares to physical media. No worries on that account here ... this album sounds great on MP3. The instruments sound crisp and detailed. The range is excellent, there is no distortion at the higher and lower ends. The stereo separation is pleasing.

How about the music itself? It's cool jazz, arranged to fit the style and the mood of late 50s - early 60s TV ... and TV jazz in those days was very fine indeed. The skill of the musicians in these numbers is top notch. The notes on the horns are pure and the piano play had a light and adroit touch. You'd swear the bass was across the room from you.

Of course this album isn't really a soundtrack. The classic theme from the show is reinterpreted here, not recreated. This is a studio album of music that might have appeared in the show, but arranged for these studio performances as full bodied jazz ... not the light background versions that would have accompanied the action on film.

On one point I was a bit conflicted about whether to be disappointed or smug. One of the TV shows had a jazz combo at Dino's (next door to the agency's office) doing a unique turn on the theme song as a full musical number. The WB shows of that day were relaxed enough to do that, for example every Hawaiian Eye had a full musical number sung by Connie Stevens. I happened to record that 77 Sunset Strip show years ago when it played on the then "Good Life TV Network", and eventually managed to transfer it to my computer. There probably aren't many people with a recording of that number. I was halfway expecting it to be on this album (when I thought it might be a soundtrack). Read more > fond memories January 22, 2011

Format: Audio CD | Amazon Verified Purchase

This album was a surprise for me from the days when the TV show was running and my mother gave it to me. I was a kid, but I listened to it often and being able to listen to it again after five decades was quite nice. What is surprising that it sounds to my ear as a pretty good jazz album. I have always liked the extensive use of bass clarinet on it. The album includes several settings of some standards as well as the TV show theme and two different variations on it. It is definately a product of its time. Enjoy.

From the good old days

One of my all time favorite TV shows. I stil have the record album,but it won't fit in the CD Player. I can't wait for the DVD collection to come out. Published on March 2, 2009 by Paul M. Carlson

★★★★★ GREAT NIGHT March 27, 2009

By BILLYBOBUK

Format: Audio CD | Amazon Verified Purchase

Great to see this old album finally out on CD.Its 1964, Saturday night at the Apollo in NY city--the midnight show featuring Falcons with Wilson Pickett, early soulful performance by Otis Redding (the girls sure loved him), Doris Troy, Rufus Thomas and the Coasters all in fine form, and the great Ben E King closing out with a couple of his hits.

Sound and packaging is great, the house band is excellent, great release for anybody interested in 60'soul music, Atlantic & Stax sounds-highly recomended, music history, support it.

APOLLO SATURDAY NIGHT (AS 128 008) was issued in 1964 on an ATCO Special label. Orchestra leader on this star-studded Harlem NY night was sax man King Curtis (Ousley). A film was shown before the 11/13/63 concert began at just a few minutes before midnight.

ARTIST NOTES

This version of the Falcons, a vocal group formed in Detroit in 1955, features Wilson Pickett and Eddie Floyd.

Otis Redding hadn't yet broken into the Top 40 when he appeared this night.

Doris Troy, aka "Mama Soul" was an Apollo Theater usherette when she was discovered by James Brown.

★★★★★ GREAT NIGHT March 27, 2009

By BILLYBOBUK

Format: Audio CD | Amazon Verified Purchase

Great to see this old album finally out on CD.lts 1964, Saturday night at the Apollo in NY city--the midnight show featuring Falcons with Wilson Pickett, early soulful performance by Otis Redding (the girls sure loved him), Doris Troy, Rufus Thomas and the Coasters all in fine form, and the great Ben E King closing out with a couple of his hits.

Sound and packaging is great, the house band is excellent, great release for anybody interested in 60'soul music, Atlantic & Stax sounds-highly recomended, music history, support it.
